

Bio

Elie Seyedian, Esq. is licensed to practice law in the Republic of France, admitted to the New York State Bar, and California State Bar. In her practice, she focuses on family law matters, and represents domestic and international clients with cross-jurisdictional issues. She is the Co-Founder of the French-American Bar Association, and the Past President of the Iranian-American Bar Association, New York Chapter, and San Diego Chapter. She co-hosts a pro bono divorce support group assisting low income individuals with their legal and mental health counseling needs. Born in Iran, she grew up in France, and obtained her French law degree from Paris Nanterre University. She obtained her LL.M. degree from Pace Law School, New York. She is fluent in French, Farsi, and English. She co-hosts a Korean language exchange group, and has received honors from the Korean Consulate General for promoting the Korean culture in Los Angeles.