

Diana L. Martinez

Diana is a prominent Collaborative Lawyer and Mediator, practicing in the counties of San Bernardino, Orange, Los Angeles, and Riverside. Since 2007, her practice has been devoted 100% to out-of-court dispute resolution. She has trained legal, financial, and mental health professionals, locally and nationwide, on the topics of family law mediation and collaborative law enrollment, confidentiality, cultural complexities, and ethics and best practices. As current president of Collaborative Divorce Solutions of Orange County, and former board member of, and newsletter editor for, the Los Angeles Collaborative Family Law Association, Diana has facilitated education and enhancement of best practices in professional communities with markedly different demographics and practice philosophies. Her dedication in private practice and as a volunteer mediator for Riverside, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, and Inyo/Mono county superior courts, has resulted in Super Lawyers' recognition as a 2013 Rising Star and a "Superb" 10/10 rating in peer and clients online reviews.

Diana received her BA from the University of California, at Riverside in 1995, and her JD in 1998 from the University of Southern California School of Law. She has practiced as a lawyer in the areas of family law, criminal defense, and civil litigation. She is a member of Collaborative Divorce Solutions of Orange County, the Los Angeles County Bar Association, the Southern California Mediation Association, and the International Association of Collaborative Professionals. She is a co-founder of CultureCounts.org, a program dedicated to bringing awareness to cultural complexities affecting family law matters.
